One year of construction

Building structures developing under the watchful eye of large tower cranes are now a familiar sight at Fletton Quays.

Peterborough Investment Partnership (PIP) is bringing forward this prime riverfront development that will deliver high-quality homes, offices and a new leisure offering in the centre of Peterborough.

Construction started earlier this year and is expected to be largely completed in 2019.

The office complex is due to be the first major building to open. The 100,000 sq ft headquarters office complex will be occupied by Peterborough City Council, with staff expected to move in during summer 2018. The frame of the building is now up and the exterior fit underway.

Additionally, the Grade II Listed engine and goods sheds on the site will be restored to their original condition including new Welsh slate roofing. An area of these sheds will be occupied by the City Council. Bowmer & Kirkland are the contractors behind this complex, working on behalf of property developers Bride Hall.

Work on the adjacent multi storey car-park is also underway and due to be complete by the spring 2018.

Want to get in touch?

PIP is committed to doing our best to manage work on the Fletton Quays site so it causes as little impact as possible.

A Community Liaison (CL) service supports the ongoing development works. The scheme provides a single point of contact for members of the public, in order for them to quickly and easily raise concerns regarding this site.

Keep an eye on progress

Time-lapse cameras are capturing Fletton Quays’ development. The camera takes a regular sequence of images which are then sped up and made into a video.

Search for Fletton Quays on YouTube to watch the videos. Monthly footage is also uploaded to the PIP website.

We are active on Twitter and regularly share updates and images from the site. Do engage with us if you have any questions.

What else is happening on site?

Developer Weston Homes is constructing the 350 high-quality apartments and the show home will open in the new year.

It was also announced recently that the hotel at Fletton Quays is to be branded as a Hilton Garden Inn. Further companies moving to Fletton Quays are expected to be announced in 2018.

Supporting the community

We are proud to support our community and have a number of initiatives set up. Our team from Bowmer & Kirkland are sharing unwanted materials from the Fletton Quays site with The Green Backyard on Oundle Road. The Green Backyard use these materials to maintain their community garden.

PIP also partnered with Mile Tree Brewery, an independent brewery relocating from Wisbech to Peterborough. The brewery toasted their move by creating a special beer called Quays Ale, which was on tap at the CAMRA Peterborough Beer Festival this summer.
